Subject: Residential zones

Hello Jim

How is the submissions review going?

[Redacted] would like to add something further to its submission. We want to highlight the link between the review of the residential zones and the Climate Change Green paper, which we are currently preparing a submission on. Essentially we believe that all zones should have better environmental and social outcomes.

Our submission already recommends that the rescode standards be reviewed to reflect the community's higher aspirations in terms of environmental outcomes, and that the zones have stronger environmental objectives.

Although it may not suit your timeframes, we could send you a copy of our green paper submission when it is finished if you like.

Kind Regards
